

Infrastructure/Energy M&A and Joint Ventures

Knowledge of the assets and the sector you work in is key. So is knowledge of the market — sellers, buyers, and advisers alike. You need someone who understands the environment you work in and knows how to get deals over the line.

Our dedicated infrastructure M&A and joint venture team is made up of experienced corporate and finance lawyers who are embedded in our wider infrastructure and energy practice. We are unique in combining legal knowledge, commercial experience, and industry knowledge in one coordinated team.

We act buy-side and sell-side and have experience with a wide range of sale processes. We know the best way to manage success for clients.
