

Agency Investigations

Dealing with investigations related to antitrust and compliance law is challenging. Investigations that begin in one country can rapidly spread to others. And decisions made in one country can fundamentally affect exposure to fines, damages, and criminal penalties on the other side of the globe.

We have extensive experience dealing with antitrust investigations initiated by U.S. agencies, the European Commission, and national competition authorities around the world. Our team is highly skilled at coordinating responses to parallel investigations by multiple enforcers and can help you effectively deal with investigations of all kinds. Civil antitrust investigations can result in significant follow-on civil litigation. Our antitrust litigation experience means we can give you the best possible advice throughout the process.
