

Elizabeth B. Meers

Senior Counsel
Washington, D.C.

Biography

Elizabeth Meers has been immersed in the education sector for more than 30 years. Whether the issue involves student financial aid, institutional or programmatic accreditation, state education licensure, civil rights, religious identity, or other education-related matters, Elizabeth has extensive knowledge of the law, agency practice, and education sector norms.

Elizabeth has a broad background with federal and state regulations and accreditation standards governing the education sector. Elizabeth applies her knowledge in counseling clients on compliance with regulatory and accreditation requirements; negotiating contracts, including international initiatives, online programs, and mergers and acquisitions; and representing clients in legal proceedings involving federal and state agencies and accreditors. Elizabeth's clients include colleges and universities, independent schools, education associations, foundations, education companies, investors in the education sector, and other education organizations.

Elizabeth led the Hogan Lovells Education practice area from 2004 to 2014. She has also been a higher education association executive, in-house counsel, and a college trustee. She is also an active member of the National Association of College and University Attorneys (NACUA).
